

Ed. Bilitzke Gets Circuit Judgeship

APPOINTED TO SUCCEED
LATE JUDGE GUY E.
SMITH

Was Gaylord Attorney. Resigns
As Assistant Atty General

In the appointment of Attorney Edward A. Bilitzke, for circuit judge to succeed the late Judge Smith, there is every reason to believe that the 34th judicial circuit is in good hands. He resigned as assistant attorney general Tuesday to accept the appointment by Gov. Fitzgerald. He was sworn into office by Chief Justice Walter H. North of the Supreme Court. He will leave Lansing last of the week to resume his home in Gaylord.

Bilitzke is 37 years old, and first served in the Attorney General's Office under former Attorney General Paul W. Voorhies in 1931 and 1932. He was attorney for Secretary of State during Fitzgerald's term in that office, 1933, 1934, and returned to the Attorney General's Office under former Attorney General Harry S. Toy in 1935.

Before going to Lansing, Bilitzke had been prosecuting attorney of Oshtemo County from 1927 to 1930. Bilitzke attended the University of Detroit Law School in 1922 and later studied in the office of Thomas A. E. Weadock, of Detroit.

Bilitzke has been the public utilities expert in the Attorney General's Office and represented the State in the pending Michigan Bell Telephone Co. rate case before the Public Utilities Commission. He also handled the Michigan-Wisconsin boundary dispute which recently was settled by the United States Supreme Court. The Nebo-Shoeb case involving the right of the public to fish in navigable waters and the level case in which Michigan protested against the diversion of Lake Michigan water by the Chicago sanitary district. Bilitzke said Tuesday that he will be a candidate in November for election to the balance of Judge Smith's term, beginning Jan. 1, 1937. Attorney General David H. Crowley said that no arrangements had been made to fill the vacancy caused by Bilitzke's resignation. An outside man probably will be selected.

82 Deer Removed From Military Camp

Eighty-two deer were live-trapped and transported from the Portage Creek swamp in Crawford county to new areas in Kalamazoo and Muskegon counties during the past winter, state game authorities report.

Four of the deer were released in the North Manistee state swamp, which is largely state owned, in Kalamazoo county, and 26 deer were released in the state-owned Butterfield swamp in Muskegon county. All of the deer had been tagged before release and the tag numbers recorded.

Whether any of these deer will migrate back into the Portage Creek swamp and how far they will travel from point of release are matters game men hope to learn through reports on ear tags. Deer hunters next fall will be asked to report any buck deer killed or any deer found dead in the woods bearing aluminum ear tags.

Sealed Bids

Sealed bids will be accepted up to and including May 28 for the sale of one building known as Frederic township tool shed and one Port Huron 16 h. p. engine. The board reserves right to accept or reject any or all bids.

Illness Fatal To Judge Smith

CIRCUIT JUDGE DIES IN SAGINAW HOSPITAL

Circuit Judge Guy E. Smith, 71, of Gladwin, died in Saginaw hospital last week. Thursday, after several months of illness, he spent last day and night in Florida in an attempt to shake off his illness.

Judge Smith was born in Bay City, and the day before that city reported his death, and in part the following:

Judge Guy E. Smith was a statewide reputation for his "horse sense" vernacular, which resulted probably from the fact that as a young man he worked as a lumberjack, reading law at night and in his spare time until he was ready for the bar.

Born in Bay City May 16, 1864, Judge Smith was left an orphan at an early age. He spent part of his youth in the now deserted lumbering town of Meredith. At the age of 15 he came to the Gladwin area, where he was later to gain the esteem and respect of residents. During that period he worked in Gladwin lumber camps. He was admitted to the bar in 1893 after attending school in Funt and Flushing and studying law in the offices of Durant and Carlton at Flint.

Two years later, when he had his own law shingle hanging in Gladwin, he was elected prosecuting attorney of Gladwin county, holding that post until 1901, when he was chosen probate judge. In 1919 Governor Albert E. Sleeper appointed him to the circuit bench as successor to the late Judge Nelson G. Sharpe, of West Branch, named to the state supreme court.

Until advancing age and failing illness, Judge Smith was a popular figure in the community. He was a member of the Michigan Bar Association and the Michigan Judicial Association. He was also a member of the Gladwin Chamber of Commerce and the Gladwin Athletic Club.

He was a native of Bay City and had lived in Gladwin for many years. He was a devoted family man and was survived by his wife, Mrs. Guy E. Smith, and several children. He was also survived by several brothers and sisters.
